IX.—REGULATIONS CONCERNING PRECEDENCE OF DIPLOMATIC AGENTS.

The rules on this subject which have been prescribed by the Department are the same as those contained in the seven rules of the Congress of Vienna found in the protocol of the session of March 9, 1815, and in the supplementary or eighth rule of the Congress of Aix la Chapelle of November 21, 1818. They are as follows:

ARTICLE I. Diplomatic agents are divided into three classes: That of ambassadors, legates, or nuncios; that of envoys, ministers, or other persons accredited to sovereigns; that of chargés d'affaires accredited to ministers for foreign affairs.

ART. II. Ambassadors, legates, or nuncios only have the representative character.

ART. III. Diplomatic agents on an extraordinary mission have not, on that account, any superiority of rank.

ART. IV. Diplomatic agents shall take precedence in their respective classes according to the date of the official notification of their arrival. The present regulation shall not cause any innovation with regard to the representative of the Pope.

ART. V. A uniform mode shall be determined in each state for the reception of diplomatic agents of each class.

ART. VI. Relations of consanguinity or of family alliance between courts confer no precedence on their diplomatic agents. The same rule also applies to political alliances.

ART. VII. In acts or treaties between several powers which grant alternate precedence, the order which is to be observed in the signatures shall be decided by lot between the ministers.

ART. VIII. * * * It is agreed that ministers resident accredited to them shall form, with respect to their precedence, an intermediate class between ministers of the second class and chargés d'affaires.

These rules have been formally or tacitly accepted by all Governments except the Ottoman Porte, which divides diplomatic representatives into three classes only—ambassadors, ministers, and chargés d'affaires.

X.—PRESENT CONSULAR SERVICE OF THE UNITED STATES.

The statutes of the United States classify the consulates-general, consulates, and commercial agencies into three classes: 1. Those embraced in a schedule known as Schedule B, the incumbents of which receive a fixed salary, and are not allowed to transact business; 2. Those embraced in a schedule known as Schedule C, the incumbents of which receive a fixed salary, and are allowed to transact business; 3. All other consulates the incumbents of which are compensated by the fees collected in their offices, and are allowed to transact business. The classification of the consulates named in the schedules is as follows:

The following table exhibits all the Consulates-General, Consulates, Commercial Agencies, and Consular Agencies of the United States. The agencies under each consulate are printed in italics. The compensation of salaried Consuls is limited to the amount of the salary, out of which the officer must defray the expenses of clerk hire, except where clerk hire is provided by law. The compensation of the feed Consuls is limited to $2,500. If the fees exceed that sum such Consuls can pay clerk hire from the fees received at the consulate when thereto specially authorized, but not otherwise. The column of fees shows the amount of fees received at each consulate and agency from which returns have been made for the year ending June 30, 1892. It is the usual practice for the agent, subject to agreement with the Consul, to retain one-half of the fees of the agency until the sum retained by him amounts to $1,000. This rule is not universal as regards the proportion, but the maximum of $1,000 cannot be exceeded. The agent can not, however, take precedence over the Consul in the division of the fees. The Consul is entitled to retain not more than $1,000 a year in the aggregate from the agencies under his consulate. The letters C. G. indicate Consul-General; C., Consul; V. C., Vice-Consul; C. A., Commercial Agent; D. C., Deputy Consul; Agt., Agent; Mar., Marshal; Int., Interpreter; C. C., Consular Clerk. The letter (a) indicates that the officer is a naturalized citizen, and the letter (b) that he is authorized to transact business.

XVI.—INTERNATIONAL TRIBUNAL OF EGYPT.

In 1876, as the result of negotiations between the Ottoman and Egyptian Governments and the various Christian powers having representatives at Cairo, certain courts were created in Egypt for the trial of mixed civil causes arising between persons of different foreign nationalities, and suits of foreigners against natives, the Egyptian Government and members of the Khedival family. These mixed tribunals, in civil matters within their exclusive jurisdiction, superseded the consular courts. A mixed tribunal consists of five judges, three of whom are foreigners and two natives. The foreign judges are appointed by the Khedive on the recommendation of the great powers, each of which is represented by from one to three judges. There are several tribunals of original jurisdiction (first instance) and a court of appeals at Alexandria. The United States is represented in these courts by the following judges:

Court of appeals at Alexandria.—Victor C. Barringer, of North Carolina (appointed in 1874).

Court of first instance at Alexandria.—Ernest H. Crosby, of New York (appointed in 1889).

Court of first instance at Cairo.—Anthony M. Keiley, of Virginia (appointed in 1886).
